MARRIED TODAY AT BEVERLY FARMS.

MRS. JOHN R. PITNEY.
Formerly Miss Francis Williams, daughter of Col. and Mrs. John R. Williams of this city.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN AND OUT OF TOWN

Leiter Home at Beverly Scene at Noon of Pitney-Williams Wedding.

Italian Counselor Returns—Miss Warfield Engaged—Japanese Naval Attache Entertains.

A brilliant assemblage of society folk from Washington and other cities were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter at Highwater, their summer home at Beverly, at noon today, to witness the marriage ceremony which united Mrs. Leiter's sister, Miss Francis Williams, and Mr. John Ballantine Pitney of Morristown, N. J., and attend the breakfast which followed.

The bride is the daughter of Col. John R. Williams, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Williams of Washington and made her debut two years ago at the Palladium, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leiter on the Potomac, in Virginia, and following a trip around the world with them on the Vanderbilt yacht Niagara, which Mr. Leiter engaged for the journey.

Edgewater is the handsome home built by Mrs. L. Z. Leiter a few years before her death, and the bride of today was surrounded by a perfect mass of flowers, which pink and blue hydrangeas predominated. She wore an exquisite gown which appeared to be constructed almost wholly of tulle, while her bouquet was of the rarest species of white orchids. Clusters of orange blossoms gave the traditional touch to the bridal attire.

Miss Ann Bradley of Morristown, N. J., a cousin of the bridegroom, was the only attendant for the bride, and Mr. Pitney was attended by Mr. John N. Stearns, 34, of Morristown, as best man.

Masters of ceremony who ushered the guests to their various posts of vantage were: Mr. Shelton Pitney and Mr. Francis Bradley, cousins of the bridegroom; Mr. John D. Wing, 2d, Commander (ret.) Butler and Mr. Clarence U. S. Mitchell.

The marriage services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Nicholas R. Walsh, pastor of St. Margaret's Catholic Church of Beverly.

At the breakfast, which followed, the bride's table was laden with pink roses and valley lilies, the favorite flowers of the bride, while the tables for guests bore masses of the rarest fall flowers.

Mr. Pitney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. H. Pitney of Morristown, N. J., and nephew of Mr. Justice Pitney of the Supreme Court, who, with Mrs. Pitney, was a guest at the wedding today. He recently took an examination for civil appointment in the army, and following out the wish of the bride, will enter the service.

House guests from many cities assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leiter and that of the bride's parents, and last evening Col. and Mrs. Williams entertained at a dinner dance at the Myopia Hunt Club for the bridal company.

Mr. and Mrs. Pitney will be frequent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leiter and Col. and Mrs. Williams during the winter season.

Mr. Giuseppe Brambilla, counselor of the Italian embassy, has returned to Washington for the season. The ambassador and Countess di Celleri are comfortably settled in the summer embassy, Pith Pine Hall, Beverly Farms, Mass., and are not expected to return here until about the middle of October.

The Postmaster General and Mrs. Burleson have planned to continue residence at Elmhurst, N. J., until October 1, when they will return here.

The Misses Burleson, who spent part of the summer on the Eaton ranch in Wyoming, and in riding through Yellowstone Park, are now visiting their sister in Texas.

An engagement of unusual interest to society is that of Miss Wallis Warfield, daughter of Mrs. John Freeman Bashin of Baltimore, and Lieut. E. Winfield Spencer, United States Navy, Aviation Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Winfield Spencer of Highland Park, Chicago.

The wedding will be among the important social events of November. Miss Warfield has been one of the most popular girls in society since her debut several years ago and has been much entertained both here and in Baltimore. She has frequently visited her aunt, Mrs. George Barnett, wife of Maj. Gen. Barnett, U. S. A.

Lieut. Spencer is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy and is now stationed at Pensacola, Fla., where he is one of the instructors in aviation.

the private dining room and the decorations were all in red and white, with a centerpiece for the table of red and white roses.

Miss Martha C. Codman has returned to her villa at Newport, after a short visit in Boston.

Maj. Gen. and Mrs. George Barnett will entertain at a ball tomorrow night at Wakefield Manor. This is an annual autumn event at which Gen. and Mrs. Barnett are hosts, and a large contingent from Washington and country estates in Rappahannock county will motor to Wakefield Manor for the occasion, in addition to a number of guests from Baltimore.

Rev. George Robinson, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Robinson and their son, Mr. S. A. Robinson, have returned to their residence on Baltimore street after spending the summer in Atlantic City.

Col. and Mrs. Frederick Marsh left last week for an indefinite stay in Toronto, Canada.

Maj. Robert G. Paxton, U. S. A., retired, of this city, is at Hot Springs, Va.

Miss Marie Kufman of Williamsport, Md., is visiting her uncle, Mr. O. C. McCordell, and family, of Northeast Washington.

The marriage of Miss Edith Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kay, and Mr. Harry Froelich, both of Charles Town, W. Va., took place yesterday at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. Louis Hawkins, 518 A street northeast, Rev. Dr. H. S. France officiating. After a luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Froelich left for New York city. They will make their home in Charles Town, W. Va.

Mr. Walter Haines Page, ambassador to Great Britain, is at Pinehurst, where he recently bought an estate. He is having a large number of changes made and is watching the completion of a new residence.

Mr. Page will also take part in a golf tournament on the Pinehurst links.

A small dinner party was entertained at the Shoreham last evening in company.

pilment to Miss Janet Curtis. The guests, besides Miss Curtis, were Mrs. Richard Stockton Field, Miss Amy Grooms, Miss Louise Pugh, Mr. Kemper Cowling, Mr. John Swann, Mr. Harry Hoffman and Mr. Curtis.

Mr. Constantin Brun, minister of Denmark, will come to the legation Monday, after spending the summer at Harbor. Count Molke, recently attached to the legation, will accompany the minister to Washington.

Assistant Solicitor of the State Department and Mrs. Hampson Gary are at their Washington home after several weeks spent in Massachusetts and Maine. They were joined in Massachusetts by their children, who returned with them. The children were at Belgrade camp all the summer.

An interesting wedding party has been arranged for Miss Mildred Brown North of Providence, R. I., and Paymaster Edward Randolph Eberle, U. S. N., at St. Stephen's Church October 14. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. North, and the bridegroom-elect is the son of Rear Admiral Edward W. Eberle, superintendent of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. Their party will include Miss Mattie Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Arnold, who will act as maid of honor; Miss Marion Martin Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Baker, and Miss Virginia Brown Ostby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erling C. Ostby, both cousins of the bride, who will be the flower girls.

The best man will be Lieut. Edward D. Capehart, U. S. N., and the ushers will be Lieut. Richard E. Byrd of the Rhode Island Naval Militia; Assistant Naval Constructor Garland Fulton, U. S. N.; Lieut. Solon E. Rose, Ensign Herbert Mollinix, Ensign Allan W. Ashbrook and Lieut. William S. Eberle, all of the navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin E. Fuller entertained last evening at their home, on Monroe street, in compliment to Mr. John Grine of Pittsburgh. An interesting musical program was given by Miss Edna C. Grine, accompanied by Miss Edna C.
